DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see Remarks/Arguments, filed 12/2/2005, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-12 and 26 under 35 U.S.C. 102 and 103 have been fully considered and are persuasive in light of the amendments. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Katakabe (US 6,745,784).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-8 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Katakabe (US Patent No. 6,745,784) in view of Oh (US Patent No. 6,751,824).

Katakabe discloses the substrate rinsing assembly having a first nozzle array including at least one nozzle positioned over a center of the substrate (Fig. 2, Item 24) and a second nozzle array having a plurality of nozzles positioned to direct fluid across the span of the substrate (Fig. 2, Item 26, col. 4, ll. 29-60, 63-64). Katakabe also discloses the substrate is rotated (Fig. 1), the rinse solution is deionized water (col. 8, ll. 38-50). Katakabe further discloses that the deionized water can be applied to the front and back of the wafer simultaneously to rinse the wafer. Therefore, although not specifically stated, in order to fully rinse the wafer, one of ordinary skill in the art would immediately foresee using all of the nozzles to clean the wafer with deionized water. Katakabe does not specifically disclose having valves in connection with the fluid supplies and nozzles. However, valves are well known in the art and Katakabe discloses stopping and controlling the various fluid applications (see entire document and col. 8, ll. 36-31). One of ordinary skill in the art would immediately foresee the necessity of valves to properly operate the rinsing assembly and Oh discloses this by showing valves in connection with the water supply and nozzle (Fig. 1). Oh also discloses a filter present on the water supply line. At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Katakabe with Oh for the benefit of controlling the flow of the solution to enable proper operation of the rinsing assembly.

Claims 2 and 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Katakabe and Oh as applied to claims 1, 3-8 and 26 above, and further in view of Mandal (US Patent No. 6,770,424).

Katakabe and Oh disclose the substrate rinsing apparatus as shown above in the 103(a) rejection. They do not specifically disclose a controller. Mandal discloses a controller controlling the rotation of the wafer and the amount of fluid dispensed (Fig. 4, Item 46). At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Katakabe and Oh with Mandal for the benefit of being able to properly control the functions of the wafer rinsing apparatus.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
